

A New Twist for Garden Twine

The Snippet Twine Dolly™

Award Finalist for Innovation 2008

FOR TRADE

The Snippet Twine Dolly™ is a new invention for gardeners! The Snippet Twine Dolly attaches to clothing or work apron, and cuts twine or cord on demand without the need for scissors or an exposed blade. No more lost or dropped scissors and no more accidental cuts from blades in the garden. It also keeps the end of the twine in place, ready for use. Designed and manufactured in the UK, using FSC oak wood. The Dolly became a finalist in the Biggart Baillie Award for Innovation 2008, Female Category.

Product Developer, Amanda Alexander, now nicknamed around the office as, 'The Mand Inventor' felt most nervous just 2 weeks before her presentation to the 'Dragon's Den' style judges of the Biggart Baillie Awards for Scottish Innovation, 2008, (Female category).

"Preparing for the presentation to the judges of the competition was probably the hardest part of the whole process.

I knew from my research that there was interest and demand for such a product. However, being trusted and encouraged to conceive new products is a very privileged position to have. Taking an idea from the drawing stage, to the prototype and then onto manufacture is an exciting journey. From patenting and protecting the design, to choosing the right manufacturer, and then onto designing the packaging, promoting and marketing the product - I can say I have been involved in the whole process from start to finish".

Wanting to create a gardening tool that was both purposeful and befitting to the existing range of Nutscene products, Amanda choose the materials and shape of the twine dolly with careful consideration

The Snippet Twine Dolly can be purchased from Nutscene Ltd. Retail £12.99. Available to both UK and international customers.

Nutscene have been manufacturing quality garden twines from jute since 1922. The name Nutscene was derived from their renowned green jute twine, which once tied round the plant was 'not seen'. The patented 'Greentwist' centre pull lock tie spool of twine was first produced by Nutscene.

Offering a design-led range of gift ware, designed in-house, Nutscene's range uses natural fibres and materials such as jute, sisal, flax, wood and English terracotta.

Nutscene's all female team would offer an interesting and charismatic interview. We are one of the last remaining jute manufacturers in the UK. Privately owned, forward thinking and proud to produce British products, we have a remarkable heritage and an exciting future ahead in the gardening industry.
